1. GLOBAL ECONOMY

Despite the pace and magnitude with which monetary policy rates went up since 2022, global growth has remained resilient - the world avoided a recessionary event, the banking system remained largely robust, and major emerging market economies did not suffer sudden stops. Higher household spending and larger than expected government expenditure has supported the aggregate demand.

Economic growth was stronger than expected in 2023 in the United States (2.5%) and several major emerging market and developing economies (4.3%). Euro area displayed the smallest upside (0.4%) reflecting weaker consumer sentiment and lingering effect of high energy prices. China's economy (5.2%) was affected by the enduring downturn in its property sector. Overall, for the year 2023 global growth stood at 3.2%, making a strong recovery from 2.3% in 2022.

After the surge in 2020 through 2022, headline inflation for advanced economies neared its pre-pandemic level for the first time in late 2023. There was a steep correction in commodity prices in 2023, with decline experienced in all the major segments viz fuel, metal, fertilizer and food. Going forward, IMF forecasts global headline inflation to fall from 6.8% in 2023 to 5.9% and 4.5% in 2024 and 2025 respectively.

With around 64 countries—representing 49% of the combined global population—heading for elections in 2024, the year is expected to witness political uncertainties. IMF projects global growth at 3.2% in 2024 on account of greater-than-expected growth in United States and Europe. Growth in China is projected to slowdown from 5.2% in 2023 to 4.6% in 2024 as post pandemic boost to consumption and fiscal stimulus ease and weakness in property sector persists. Faster disinflation is expected to lead to further easing of financial conditions. However, the conflict in Gaza and Israel escalating into the wider region, marine trade disruption in the Red Sea and the ongoing war in Ukraine poses supply side risks and can impact food, energy, and transportation costs.

2. INDIAN ECONOMY

During the year, the Indian economy continued to expand at an accelerated pace, supported by fixed investment and improving global environment. As per RBI's April'24 forecast, India's real GDP growth stood at 7.6% for FY24, led by growth in manufacturing and services sector.

The year witnessed organizations taking significant strides towards adoption of Artificial Intelligence specially in Gen AI space. The Indian government has also shown increasing interest and investment in AI technology, recognizing its potential to drive economic growth and solve societal challenges. Several initiatives have been launched to foster AI development in India including launch of National AI Portal, which serves as a central platform for AI-related resources, policies, and initiatives. Additionally, the government has established AI research institutes and centers of excellence to promote research and innovation in AI. However, challenges such as data privacy, skill shortages, and ethical concerns remain significant barriers to the widespread adoption of AI in India.

India continued its green energy transition towards meeting its CoP 26 commitments. As part of this, India is aggressively expanding its renewable energy capacity and the Government has implemented various policies and incentives to promote green energy development, including subsidies, tax incentives, and renewable purchase obligations for utilities. Further, policy support towards developing electric vehicle value chain has seen increased interest from the industry.

3. TRENDS IN THE GLOBAL AGRICULTURE MARKET

The increasing demand for organic products, both domestically and globally, along with the premium prices commanded by organic produce, presents a lucrative market for farmers and agribusinesses. Integration of technology, such as precision farming and blockchain for traceability, enhances the credibility of organic products and fosters consumer trust.

Strategic collaborations between farmers, retailers, and e-commerce platforms contribute to expanding the market reach of organic produce, creating a robust supply chain for the industry. Additionally, the growing interest of multinational corporations in sourcing organic raw materials from India underscores the global potential of the organic farming sector.

There has been an increasing shift from traditional to technology-driven sustainable farming practices, which marks a significant stride toward ensuring agriculture's long-term viability while reducing its environmental impact. Consumers' growing awareness of agricultural environmental impact and preference for green foods and new regulations such as the European Union's Farm to Fork (F2F) Strategy is driving this move

Demand for biofuel feedstocks is expected to grow slowly over the next ten years. Most additional biofuel use of agricultural crops is expected to occur in India and Indonesia, driven by increasing transport fuel use and higher biofuel blending requirements.

4. INDIAN AGRICULTURE

Agriculture is the bedrock of Indian economy, holding second-largest agricultural land globally and generating employment to about half of the country's population. Over the years, India has emerged as a leading producer of key agricultural commodities, achieving self-sufficiency in food grain output and servicing the nutrient needs of the world. With a production of 330 million tons of food grains in FY23, India ranks third in the overall global output, and is a leading exporter of agricultural commodities. Supportive policy measures by the Central and state governments to improve crop productivity, income support through farm subsidies and infrastructure creation has helped in propping up the rural economy. However, some of the structural challenges like low average land holding, low level of mechanization and seasonal dependence on monsoon persists, which continues to impact the productivity of Indian farms.

The organic farming industry in India has experienced a significant upswing in recent years, signalling a shift in consumer preferences towards healthier and environmentally sustainable agricultural practices. Government support, coupled with increasing consumer awareness and technological advancements, plays a pivotal role in unlocking the full potential of organic farming as a sustainable and economically viable practice in India.

The India Organic Fertilizer Market was valued at USD 577.10 Million in 2023 and is expected to reach USD 942.39 Million by 2032, at a CAGR of 5.6% during the forecast period 2023 – 2032.

Organic fertilizers are naturally available plant, animal and mineral sources that contain moderate amounts of plant essential nutrients. Organic fertilizers refer to those organic amendments applied to the soil such as include animal manure, sewage sludge, and compost, along with rendering waste, guano, brewery waste, digestate and other bio-wastes.

The government of India has announced schemes worth crores for encouraging organic farming and fertilizer industry, as India has the potential to become the hub of organic fertiliser production in the world.

The COVID-19 pandemic, in general, has made people realise the importance of good health, wellness, and nutrition. Organic food contains an absence of Chemical pesticides and is widely acknowledged for its nutritional benefits, lack of carcinogenic substances, and boosting immunity. .

Various factors such as increasing awareness about the health benefits associated with the consumption of organic products, and changes in the purchasing behaviour of consumers are propelling the demand for organic food, which in turn boosts the demand for organic fertilizers and thereby market growth.

The organic food industry in India, valued at approximately INR 131.41 billion in 2023, is poised to reach around INR 625.69 billion by 2028. This reflects an impressive compound annual growth rate (CAGR) of about 37.01 percent during the forecast period from 2024 to 2028.

The surge in popularity of organic farming is driven by global awareness of the environmental impact of conventional agriculture. This combined with a growing health-conscious consumer base, positions organic farming as a leading practice in the Indian agricultural landscape. The demand for chemical-free produce, sustainable farming practices, and a preference for healthier lifestyles contribute to the sector's growth.

5. WOMAN HYGIENE & SAFETY

Our promoters began their journey by getting involved in procuring and distribution of natural organic plant protection products and other organic products for the betterment of farming amongst villages and hence our Company was formed to formalize such trading and distribution activities. Thereafter we acquired agricultural land in 2013 and used certain available farm area to carry out farming activities to research and develop methods of improving farm yield and thereafter educating and supporting women farmers to use such products thereby growing our distribution and touch point base. Even though we did not carry out any large scale farming activities ourselves we were able to create an ecosystem of various small farmers whom we acted as trading intermediaries for better realization of their produce. Further with our growing network of women among these villages we started helping to create awareness about women hygiene products such as Sanitary Napkins along with other organizations doing such work. Thereafter in 2018 we formally entered into Woman Hygiene & Safety Segment by launching Sanitary Napkins under our brand name - “Monthly times”.

The market was valued at INR 25.02 billion in 2018 and is expected to reach INR 58.62 billion by 2024, expanding at a compound annual growth rate (CAGR) of ~14.92%, during the 2019-2024 period. In India, approximately 60% of women are diagnosed with vaginal and urinary tract diseases and infections every year due to poor menstrual hygiene. Growing awareness about intimate hygiene and increase in preference for sanitary products like tampons and panty liners have garnered a huge demand for feminine hygiene products in the country. The entry of new players and start-ups is expanding the feminine hygiene products market in India

6. FEMININE HYGIENE PRODUCT MARKET OUTLOOK

With an estimated CAGR of 9.0%, the global feminine hygiene product market size has the potential to surpass US$ 32,714.70 million in 2023. By 2033, feminine hygiene product sales are expected to be estimated at US$ 77,399.90 million.

From 2023 to 2033, the feminine hygiene product market may grow due to the increased acceptance and awareness of menstrual hygiene management practices. The growing demand for menstrual products is aided by the increased emphasis on gender equality and women's empowerment.

The feminine hygiene industry is expanding due to many product innovations and technological advancements. To satisfy consumers' changing needs and preferences, feminine hygiene product manufacturers always create new products with enhanced comfort, absorption, and convenience.

The growing consciousness among women regarding the significance of menstrual health and feminine hygiene is a major factor accelerating the feminine hygiene product market expansion. Initiatives and campaigns for education have helped raise awareness of this. Continuous improvements in manufacturing processes, materials science, and product design have produced more comfortable and practical feminine hygiene products, stimulating feminine care product market expansion.

The feminine hygiene product market has grown due to cultural and societal shifts that put women's health and hygiene first. These shifts have stimulated conversations about menstruation and supported creative product solutions. Since urban areas typically offer better access to a broader range of products and better sanitation facilities, the trend of urbanization has resulted in a greater adoption of feminine hygiene products.

Due to rising consumer awareness, shifting consumer preferences, and market innovations, sales of feminine hygiene products saw significant growth between 2018 and 2022. There was a noticeable shift during this time towards eco-friendly and sustainable options.

The feminine hygiene product market may continue to change between 2023 and 2033. Forecasts indicate that technology innovation, sustainability, and customization to meet various needs may remain priorities. To develop novel, eco-friendly solutions, adjust to social norms and consumer preferences, and broaden their reach, feminine hygiene product vendors should make research and development investments.

3. OPPORTUNITIES AND THREATS:

After nearly four decades of globally acclaimed phenomenal increase in food grains production, termed as Green revolution, Indian agriculture is once again at cross roads. Despite a plethora of schemes at the national and state level, the agricultural growth rate is struggling to achieve the four per-cent growth rate set up by National Development Council to achieve a double digit growth rate of 10%. Agriculture is becoming non remunerative and if farmers are not getting enough money to be encouraged to stay in agriculture, it would be ridiculous to come up with a binding legislation on food security.

(A) OPPORTUNITIES: The growing trend towards sustainable and organic agriculture is expected to create lucrative opportunities for the market. Favorable growth of organic agricultural practices all over India coupled with state government initiatives to promote organic farming is creating lucrative opportunities for the market during the forecast period.

1. Favorable government initiatives:

Favorable government policies are also expected to create lucrative opportunities for the market during the forecast period. For instance, the Government of India is promoting Natural Farming on a larger scale in Mission Mode to cover a 7.5 lakh hectare area by developing 15,000 clusters along Ganaga Basin and other red flag areas.

Initiatives such as the Menstrual Hygiene Day Foundation’s educational campaigns play a crucial role in raising awareness about menstrual health, highlighting the importance of proper feminine hygiene products.

2. Growing research:

Growing research and development in organic fertilizer is expected to create lucrative opportunities for the market during the forecast period. Indian Council of Agricultural Research (ICAR) under the Network project on ‘Soil Biodiversity-Bio-fertilizers’ has developed new technologies for rapid composting within farm renewable resources which is a potential source of organic fertilizers. Under this project, ICAR has developed improved and efficient strains of bio-fertilizers specific to various crops and soil types. Through this project, ICAR provides training and guidance to farmers on the use of organic fertilizers. Thus, such initiatives are expected to create lucrative opportunities for the market during the forecast period.

Product diversification, particularly through the introduction of organic and eco-friendly options in Feminine Hygiene Products, is driving the growth of the Feminine Hygiene Products industry.

3. Expansion in niche segments:

Expanding into niche segments within the feminine hygiene products market presents a promising avenue for growth by catering to specialized consumer needs. For example, the introduction of menstrual cups designed specifically for athletes.

4. Market Trends :

Trends indicate a sharp increase in on-the-go eating, snacking in between meals, switching to healthier eating alternatives, pre-cooked ready-to-eat meals, and increasing consumption of organic foods. This has led to a host of new opportunities in the consumer foods market for both domestic and international companies to build a stake in this fast-growing processed food market.

(B) THREATS: These are also the external elements in the environment that could cause trouble for the enterprise.

1. Land Degradation

More than 5 billion tonnes of soil is washed every year taking with it 6 million tonnes of nutrients. A look at Table 3 reveals that threat of land degradation looms large over Indian agri-culture. Presently 93.7 million hectares of land is under threat of water erosion, 9.5 m ha under wind erosion, 14.3 m ha under water logging, 5.9 m ha from soil salinity, 16 m ha from soil acidity and 7.4 m ha from other types of threats. This puts the total area under land degradation to 146.8 m ha i.e. more than the total cultivable land.

2. Low seed replacement ratio

In India still those varieties are used which were developed 20-30 years ago. We have a low seed replacement ratio of 20-25%. There is a close relationship between good quality seed and the yield. Quality seeds can increase yield by 25-30%. There is a need to rejuvenate the seed sector by producing more quality seeds by National Seeds Corporation and State seed corporations.

3. Declining Interest in Agriculture:

A survey by National Sample Survey Organization (2005) reveals that 41% of farmers want to leave agriculture if any other option was available. Even in agriculturally progressive state like Punjab 37% of farmers want to quit agriculture. Definitely the percentage must have risen high now. 95% of farming community has no access to microfinance and insurance. 56% still borrow from informal sources and 70% has no deposit account in Banks. Crop insurance also covers only 4-6% of farmers. Youths are not interested in agriculture. This is because agriculture is not economically rewarding and intellectually stimulating. A December 2012 report of the Institute of Applied Manpower Research (IAMR) a part of the planning commission on an average 2,035 farmers are losing main cultivators status every single day for the last 20 years. Census 2011 also shows that we now have 95.8 million cultivators for whom farming is their main occupation and this number is down from that was 103 million in 2001 and 110 million in 1991. Between 1981 and 1991 the number of cultivators (main workers) actually went up from 92 million to 110 million. The huge decline comes after post 1991.

4. Lack of education:

The lack of open dialogue and education about menstrual health perpetuates the stigma, further inhibiting market expansion. Without adequate awareness campaigns and educational initiatives to challenge these taboos, the market for feminine hygiene products remains constrained

5. Face obstacles in marketing

In regions where cultural beliefs heavily influence societal attitudes towards menstruation, market penetration becomes particularly challenging. Companies face obstacles in marketing their products effectively and may struggle to shift ingrained cultural perceptions.

Addressing these cultural barriers requires not only targeted marketing strategies but also broader societal efforts to normalize conversations about menstruation and promote menstrual health education. Only through dismantling stigma and challenging cultural taboos can the Feminine Hygiene Products market realize its full growth potential.

4. RISKS AND CONCERN:

Risk is an integral part of the business and we aim at delivering superior shareholder value by achieving an appropriate balance between risks and returns. The financial services industry is subject to continuously evolving legislative and regulatory environment due to increasing globalization, integration of world markets, newer and more complex products & transactions and an increasingly stringent regulatory framework.

The agricultural sector is exposed to a variety of risks which occur with high frequency. These include climate and weather risks, natural catastrophes pest and diseases, which cause highly variable production outcomes. Production risks are exacerbated by price risks, credit risks, technological risks and institutional risks. Risk management in agriculture ranges from informal mechanism like avoidance of highly risky crops, diversification across crops and across income sources to formal mechanisms like agriculture insurance, minimum support price system and future's markets.

Stigma and Cultural Taboos present a formidable restraint hindering the growth of the Feminine Hygiene Products market. In societies where menstruation is steeped in cultural taboos, discussions around feminine hygiene remain restricted, impeding the adoption of modern products.

For example, in various cultures, menstruation is perceived as taboo, leading to silence and reluctance to embrace contemporary feminine hygiene solutions. These deep-rooted taboos create significant barriers to market growth by perpetuating myths and misconceptions about menstruation and hygiene.

Women may feel ashamed or embarrassed to openly discuss their menstrual needs or seek out appropriate products. Consequently, the demand for modern feminine hygiene products stagnates, as cultural norms discourage their usage.

5. INTERNAL CONTROL SYSTEMS AND THEIR ADEQUACY:

The company has an Internal Control System commensurate with its requirement and size of business to ensure that the assets and interest of the company assets are safeguarded. The adequacy and effectiveness of the internal control across various activities, as well as compliance with laid down system and policies are comprehensively and frequently monitored by your company's management at all the levels of the organization. The company has established well defined policies and processes across the organization covering all major activities including authority for approvals. In all cases where monetary decisions are involved, various limits and authorities are in place.

The Company's internal controls are structured in a manner that ensure reasonable assurance with regard to recording and providing reliable financial and operational information, complying with applicable statutes, safeguarding assets from unauthorized use or losses, executing transactions with proper authorization and ensuring compliance of corporate policies, laws and accounting standards.

6. HUMAN RESOURCES:

7. FINANCIAL OVERVIEW:

The company's turnover for the year under review was Rs. 32,73,65,000/- from Rs. 20,56,48,000/- in the previous year, a considerable rise of around 17%, owing to an increase in pricing and volume as compared to the previous year, which was impacted by the Covid 19 pandemic and reduced economic activity.

Profits:

For the year, profit before finance costs, depreciation, tax, and exceptional items was Rs 49,02,000/- (Rs. 43,26,000/- the previous year).

10. GOVERNMENT INITIATIVES

Government Initiatives in Agriculture Sector –

- The government of India is implementing various supportive policies and schemes to promote organic farming. For instance, schemes such as Paramparagat Krishi Vikas Yojana (PKVY) and Mission Organic Value Chain Development for North Eastern Region (MOVCDNER) are providing end-to-end support to farmers engaged in organic farming i.e. from production to processing, certification and marketing and post-harvest management. Such supportive policies are encouraging organic farming in India, which in turn boosts the demand for organic fertilizers.

20. OUR STRENGTH:

- Strong network and established relationships within rural communities in Southern India

Our promoters began their journey by getting involved in procuring and distribution of natural organic plant protection products and organic products for the betterment of farming amongst villages and hence our Company was formed to formalize such trading and distribution activities. Thereafter we acquired agricultural land in 2013 (later converted into non-agricultural land) and used certain available farm area to carry out farming activities to research and develop methods of improving farm yield and thereafter educating and supporting women farmers to use such products thereby growing our distribution and touch point base. Even though we did not carry out any large-scale farming activities ourselves we were able to create an ecosystem of various small farmers whom we acted as trading intermediaries for better realization of their produce. Further with our growing network of women among these villages we started helping to create awareness about women hygiene products such as Sanitary Napkins along with other organizations doing such work. Thereafter in 2018 we formally entered into Woman Hygiene & Safety Segment by launching Sanitary Napkins under our brand name - —Monthly times. We believe that since our business model is heavily reliant on women ecosystem in such villages our established point of sale contacts would help in ensuring stronger growth in the future.

- Low Indirect Tax Product Space

Our all three core activities – i.e. –Agro Products; Bio-Products and Sanitary Napkins are all having NIL and/ or concessional indirect tax rates such as GST. We believe these products would continue to enjoy government benefits and hence growth of our businesses would be benefitted from such government initiatives and regulations in future.

21. OUR STRATEGIES

- Continue to focus on women centric business avenues

Our Company is a women entrepreneurial venture. Our organization is deeply involved in the rural ecosystem surrounding women in and around certain villages of Telangana, Andhra Pradesh & border areas of Karnataka. We also involve local agents and traders based in the state of Telangana for sale our goods. Likewise, the Company also procures goods from local dealers and vendors via local agents based in the state of Telangana. We believe that being one of the few companies in India having —All Women Board of Directorl would provide us a unique advantageous position w.r.t positioning the Company for dealing with women related products such as sanitary Napkins or even natural organic plant protection products used by farming communities. We intend to carry our PR exercise to strengthen these women centric image of the Company thereby providing us niche in the minds of our consumers and suppliers likewise. Our Company has recently launched a B2C e-commerce application on the playstore by name of Bharatbazaar (Kisaan to Kitchen) wherein our Company sells various categories of products i.e. it has more than 1000 products in its catalogue ranging from cooking essentials such as oil, basmati rice to bakery and dairy items, snacks and branded foods, beverages and a different tab for sanitary napkins.

- Focus on sustainable options in women hygiene Product market.

Our Company is looking forward to explore this industry and promoting reusable and disposable options to promote sustainable future. Reusable and Disposable Sanitary Napkins will reduce the use of plastics and in this way contribute towards the environment.

22. OUTLOOK:

The outlook for the industry depends on (a) consistent demand for Plantation Crops throughout the year (b) a higher realization commensurate with the cost of production and (c) the growth of packet tea segment. The Company has been constantly endeavoring on this. Quality upgradation and attainment of cost efficiency are the prime missions of the Company. Plant modernization and field development have been undertaken with the above missions in mind.

The Government of India through its 'Atmanirbhar' package has rolled out many path breaking reforms particularly in the agriculture and rural sector. Opinion

In our opinion and to the best of our information and according to the explanations given to us, the aforesaid financial statements give the information required by the Act in the manner so required and give a true and fair view in conformity with the Indian Accounting Standards prescribed under section 133 of the Act and other accounting principles generally accepted in India, of the state of affairs of the Company as at March 31, 2024, its profit and its cash flows for the year ended on that date.

Basis of Opinion

We conducted our audit in accordance with the Standards on Auditing (SAs) specified under section 143(10) of the Companies Act, 2013. Our responsibilities under those Standards are further described in the Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Financial Statements section of our report. We are independent of the Company in accordance with the Code of Ethics issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India together with the ethical requirements that are relevant to our audit of the financial statements under the provisions of the Companies Act, 2013 and the Rules thereunder, and we have fulfilled our other ethical responsibilities in accordance with these requirements and the Code of Ethics. We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion.

Other Information

The Company's Management and the Board of Directors are responsible for the other information. The other information comprises the information included in the Company's annual report, but does not include the Financial Statements and our auditors' report thereon.

Our opinion on the Financial Statements does not cover the other information and we do not express any form of assurance conclusion thereon.

In connection with our audit of the Financial Statements, our responsibility is to read the other information and, in doing so, consider whether the other information is materially inconsistent with the Financial Statements or our knowledge obtained in the audit or otherwise appears to be materially misstated. If, based on the work we have performed, we conclude that there is a material misstatement of this other information; we are required to report that fact. We have nothing to report in this regard.

Responsibilities of Management and Those Charged with Governance for the Financial Statements

The Company's Board of Directors is responsible for the matters stated in section 134(5) of the Companies Act, 2013 ("the Act") with respect to the preparation of these financial statements that give a true and fair view of the financial position, financial performance and cash flows of the Company in accordance with the accounting principles generally accepted in India, including the accounting standards specified under section 133 of the Act, as amended.

This responsibility also includes maintenance of adequate accounting records in accordance with the provisions of the Act for safeguarding of the assets of the Company and for preventing and detecting frauds and other irregularities; selection and application of appropriate accounting policies; making judgments and estimates that are reasonable and prudent; and design, implementation and maintenance of adequate internal financial controls, that were operating effectively for ensuring the accuracy and completeness of the accounting records, relevant to the preparation and presentation of the financial statements that give a true and fair view and are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the financial statements, management is responsible for assessing the Company's ability to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless management either intends to liquidate the Company or to cease operations, or has no realistic alternative but to do so.

Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Financial Statements

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor's report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance, but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with SAs will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these financial statements.

As part of an audit in accordance with SAs, we exercise professional judgment and maintain professional skepticism throughout the audit. We also:

- Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks, and obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control.
- Obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances. Under section 143(3)(i) of the Companies Act, 2013, we are also responsible for expressing our opinion on whether the company has adequate internal financial controls system in place and the operating effectiveness of such controls.
- Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by management.
- Conclude on the appropriateness of management's use of the going concern basis of accounting and, based on the audit evidence obtained, whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on the Company's ability to continue as a going concern. If we conclude that a material uncertainty exists, we are required to draw attention in our Auditor's Report to the related disclosures in the financial statements or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify our opinion. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of our auditor's report. However, future events or conditions may cause the Company to cease to continue as a going concern.
- Evaluate the overall presentation, structure and content of the financial statements, including the disclosures, and whether the financial statements represent the underlying transactions and events in a manner that achieves fair presentation.

We communicate with those charged with governance regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and significant audit findings, including any significant deficiencies in internal control that we identify during our audit.

We also provide those charged with governance with a statement that we have complied with relevant ethical requirements regarding independence, and to communicate with them all relationships and other matters that may reasonably be thought to bear on our independence, and where applicable, related safeguards.

Annexure – 2 to the Auditors' Report

Report on the Internal Financial Controls under Clause (i) of Sub-section 3 of Section 143 of the Companies Act, 2013 ("the Act")

We have audited the internal financial controls over financial reporting of Times Green Energy (India) Limited ("the Company") as of 31st March 2024 in conjunction with our audit of the financial statements of the Company for the year ended on that date.

Management's Responsibility for Internal Financial Controls

The Company's management is responsible for establishing and maintaining internal financial controls based on the internal control over financial reporting criteria established by the Company considering the essential components of internal control stated in the Guidance Note on Audit of Internal Financial Controls over Financial Reporting issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India. These responsibilities include the design, implementation and maintenance of adequate internal financial controls that were operating effectively for ensuring the orderly and efficient conduct of its business, including adherence to company's policies, the safeguarding of its assets, the prevention and detection of frauds and errors, the accuracy and completeness of the accounting records, and the timely preparation of reliable financial information, as required under the Companies Act, 2013.

Auditor's Responsibility

Our responsibility is to express an opinion on the Company's internal financial controls over financial reporting based on our audit. We conducted our audit in accordance with the Guidance Note on Audit of Internal Financial Controls Over Financial Reporting (the "Guidance Note") and the Standards on Auditing, issued by ICAI and deemed to be prescribed under section 143(10) of the Companies Act, 2013, to the extent applicable to an audit of internal financial controls, both issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India. Those Standards and the Guidance Note require that we comply with ethical requirements and plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether adequate internal financial controls over financial reporting was established and maintained and if such controls operated effectively in all material respects.

Our audit involves performing procedures to obtain audit evidence about the adequacy of the internal financial controls system over financial reporting and their operating effectiveness. Our audit of internal financial controls over financial reporting included obtaining an understanding of internal financial controls over financial reporting, assessing the risk that a material weakness exists, and testing and evaluating the design and operating effectiveness of internal control based on the assessed risk. The procedures selected depend on the auditor's judgment, including the assessment of the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error.

We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion on the Company's internal financial controls system over financial reporting.

Meaning of Internal Financial Controls over Financial Reporting

A Company's internal financial control over financial reporting is a process designed to provide reasonable assurance regarding the reliability of financial reporting and the preparation of financial statements for external purposes in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles. A Company's internal financial control over financial reporting includes those policies and procedures that (1) pertain to the maintenance of records that, in reasonable detail, accurately and fairly reflect the transactions and dispositions of the assets of the Company; (2) provide reasonable assurance that transactions are recorded as necessary to permit preparation of financial statements in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles, and that receipts and expenditures of the Company are being made only in accordance with authorizations of management and directors of the Company; and (3) provide reasonable assurance regarding prevention or timely detection of unauthorized acquisition, use, or disposition of the company's assets that could have a material effect on the financial statements.

Inherent Limitations of Internal Financial Controls over Financial Reporting

Because of the inherent limitations of internal financial controls over financial reporting, including the possibility of collusion or improper management override of controls, material misstatements due to error or fraud may occur and not be detected. Also, projections of any evaluation of the internal financial controls over financial reporting to future periods are subject to the risk that the internal financial control over financial reporting may become inadequate because of changes in conditions, or that the degree of compliance with the policies or procedures may deteriorate.

Opinion

In our opinion, the Company has, in all material respects, an adequate internal financial controls system over financial reporting and such internal financial controls over financial reporting were operating effectively as at 31st March 2024, based on the internal control over financial reporting criteria established by the Company considering the essential components of internal control stated in the Guidance Note on Audit of Internal Financial Controls Over Financial Reporting issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India.
